

REWARD FOR ARREST OF RENAKER MURDERER INCREASED

Reward for the Arrest of the Slayer of Winchester Poultry Dealer Is Increased — Expected to Reach $5,000.

Reward offered for arrest of the murderer of Leon Renaker, 35, "turkey king," killed in his home at Winchester, Ky., last week, totaled about $4,100 Tuesday. It is expected to reach $5,000 by the end of the week.

The state of Kentucky, Clark county, city of Winchester and citizens of Winchester offered $1,000. Late Monday the murdered man's widow, Mrs. Nancy Renaker, added $2,000, and his brother, Barrie Renaker, $1,000.

Then C. C. Robbins, editor of the Winchester Sun, added $50 and other citizens contributed. Robbins is trying to raise $1,000.

Charles Ryan of the Crim Detective Agency, whose men are investigating the case, said Tuesday comparison of finger prints of a suspect with a bloody print left in the Renaker home has not been completed.

Ora Slater and F. L. Curry, Crim agents, returned to Winchester Monday night to resume their investigation. They planned to visit Paris, Ky., Tuesday on a lead.

PARTY AT COUNTRY CLUB.

The Country Club promises a very gay week to its members. Monday the golfers were started with a golf tournament which lasts through the week; and Mrs. Clement French gave a beautiful children's party for her young cousin Billie Raines, of Cincinnati. A peanut hunt afforded much fun for the children. The prizes being awarded to Mary Alitia Rankin, Warfield Everett and Billie Barnes. Dancing, golf, baseball and tennis were also enjoyed. Refreshments were served on the lawn in picnic fashion.

MISSING FLEMING COUNTAIN NOT YET FOUND BY SONS

Mr. Charles Fuller Spent Three Days in Maysville and Then Took C. & O. Train for West, Police Learn.

Sons of Mr. Charles Fuller, Fleming county man who has been missing since last Wednesday, were unable to locate their father in Maysville Monday. With the aid of the local police, they found that upon his arrival here on Wednesday of last week he went to a local boarding house where he remained for three days but on Friday he left the city over the C. & O. saying he was going to Indiana.

As Mr. Fuller had relatives in Indiana, the sons communicated with these relatives by telegraph but learned that their father was not there.

Mr. Fuller was in good health and spirits when he left his Fleming county home Wednesday and had only planned to go to Flemingsburg. He sent his horse and buggy home by a son-in-law saying he was going to Maysville on business. He came here on a motor bus and in Maysville cashed two checks for a total of about $75.00.

Police believe the members of the family are unduly exercised and that Mr. Fuller will soon return home safely.

I will call at the home and shampoo your hair for 50 cents. Satisfaction guaranteed. Rose Anderson, 215 Beech street. Phone 780. 2631-17

MARRIAGE OF REV. COX TO LOCAL WOMAN IS INVALIDATED

Ohio Court of Appeals Says Harrison Ohio Minister Was Not Divorced From First Wife When He Married Local Woman Here.

Columbus, Ohio, August 1. — A decision which invalidates the second marriage of the Rev. Fred G. Cox, formerly a Methodist Episcopal minister at Harrison, Ohio, was handed down by the Court of Appeals yesterday. It ruled that an "oral" decree of divorce was not binding and sustained Judge Charles W. Hoffman of Domestic Relations Court in dismissing Cox's suit for divorce from his first wife.

Cox filed suit in 1919 seeking a divorce from Murtice Cox, to whom he had been married for twenty years. He charged willful absence. As the result of the minister's testimony that his wife had left him more than three years prior to the filing of his suit, Judge Hoffman announced when the case was heard November 6, 1919, that a decree would be granted.

In the afternoon of the same day Cox went to Maysville, Ky., and married Miss Nannie Gill. Learning of this, Judge Hoffman called Cox into court and informed him that the divorce decree had not been officially recorded. The case was then reopened and upon investigating it was learned that the minister in applying for a marriage license had given his occupation as a street car conductor.

A short time later a letter was received from Cox's first wife in Denver, Colo., stating that she had received no notice of the divorce action, although her husband knew her whereabouts. She also said that one of the children was living with her and the other was staying with Cox, while he had testified that they were both living with him.

After a careful review of the case the court discovered from an affidavit of one of the minister's witnesses that although he had separated from his wife in September, 1917, they had lived together as man and wife in June, 1918, which was slightly more than a year prior to the filing of the divorce petition, and thus the charge of three years' willful absence could not be sustained. As a result Judge Hoffman ordered an entry, dismissing the suit, to be put on January 27, 1920.

Cox's attorney then filed a motion to set aside this judgment and when Judge Hoffman overruled it he took the case to the Court of Appeals. That court refused to review the case, with the result that a mandamus action was brought in the Ohio Supreme Court and a decision was handed down ordering the Court of Appeals to hear the appeal.

Although Cox's attorney contended that Judge Hoffman did not have the authority to place an entry on record, dismissing the divorce suit, after having announced an "oral decree" at the hearing, the Court of Appeals held that the order was reversible because the divorce decree has never been recorded.

It cited the decision in a similar case in which the court ruled that "the court speaks through a journal and a judgment is not rendered until it is reduced to a journal entry." Attorney J. Q. Martin represented Cox and Attorneys Hicks & Martin appeared against him.

BAPTIST PRAYER MEETING TONIGHT.

Because of the annual session of the Bracken Association of Baptists being held at Millersburg Wednesday and Thursday of this week, the regular mid-week prayer service at the local Baptist church has been advanced to Tuesday evening. The annual church letter to the association will be read and adopted at this meeting of the church.

WILSON BOTTOM MELONS ARRIVE ON MARKET.

The first home grown water melons from Wilson's bottoms arrived in Maysville Tuesday. The Charleston Bottom melons beat the Wilson bottom fruit to Maysville by several days this year.

CHAUTAUQUA TENT HERE.

The big tent for the Maysville Chautauqua has arrived and has been raised at Beechwood. The Chautauqua begins Sunday with religious services in charge of Rev. Dr. Ewert, prominent Chicago minister, who will be superintendent of this year's chautauqua.

CONGRESSMAN TO SPEAK ON LOCAL PLATFORM

Chautauqua Opening Sunday has Splendid List of Orators Mixed With Musical Program of Excellence.

The Maysville American Legion Chautauqua opens at Beechwood Park Sunday evening. The first service will be a union religious service with Rev. Dr. Ewert, the superintendent, in charge. The list of lecturers includes Congressman Rainey.

Congressman Rainey has been eighteen years a representative of an Illinois district in our National Legislature and has been one of the main wheels in financial legislation for years. He was the ranking member of the great ways and means committee during the war. This was the committee that really financed the war. He is one of the great outstanding speakers of our country, and under the title, "Give Me White Paper," which is from a poem of Edward Everett Hale's, will discuss the world changes that confront us now, the failure of the financial systems of the great nations, the tremendous debts, the possible changes in money standard, and the new and strange ideas that accompany this period of unrest, the awakening of China, Bolshevism in Russia, Pacific Problems, Peace and disarmament, and what they all mean.

K. I. O. DROPS TWO PLAYERS.

Two well known players of the K. I. O. League, Bill Kuhlman and "Specks" Meadows, members of the Oakley club of that circuit for several years and one of the strongest semi-pro ball clubs about Cincinnati have been suspended from that organization for participating in a game of ball in the Bluegrass League with Mt. Sterling several weeks ago under the names of Cole and Harrington.

John Dugan, president of the K. I. O., notified the Oakleys that he had sufficient evidence against these two players and that Sunday's game with the Hobbs would be forfeited to the latter club. One of the rules governing that baseball body is that no player shall play in a league game who has played for money on any other team during that season, and a fine of $25.00 is assessed if that player ever desires to return to the league.

These two players made their appearance with Mt. Sterling here on July 20.

Rumor has it that Meadows would like to join the Cardinals for the balance of the season.

TENT MEETING AT WASHINGTON.

The tent meeting at Washington has been going on about ten days. The attendance is good. People are coming from Maysville and other towns. There was a great crowd in the tent last Sunday night. Rev. W. H. Morris, who is a member of the M. E. conference of this state is doing some plain gospel preaching. Rev. S. C. Rice, who is also a member of the M. E. conference of Kentucky, is a splendid choir leader. There is no better in the state of Kentucky. Twenty-four came forward for prayer Sunday evening, many of them were truly converted. Services in the tent at 7:45 p. m. each evening during the week. Come early if you want a seat.

MANCHESTER BAND GIVEN BIG DAY AT CINCINNATI MONDAY

People of Cincinnati Give Band in Boat Accident Big Day on Monday — Wilbur Morgan is Hero of the Day.

The Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune says:

Forgetting the injuries more than half its members received on April 27, when the upper deck of the Coney Island Company's steamer Island Queen collapsed while the boat was carrying a crowd of pleasure seekers to the Grant centennial celebration at Pt. Pleasant, the Boys and Girls' Band of Manchester, Ohio, came to Cincinnati yesterday and spent a busy eight hours trying to take in all the amusements provided by a committee of citizens here organized to see "the kids had the time of their lives."

And the "kids" did have the "time of their lives" if their expressions of appreciation can be taken as a criterion.

"Better than a circus," said one; "Just like heaven," said another, and eight-year-old Pood Minet, who chapters the band's bass drum, and who nearly missed the train, said it made him forget that school would be starting in a month or so.

"It sure does," he sighed, as he finished beating out the ump-ta-ta, ump-ta-ta to a waltz in the "green book."

"It makes me forget everything." The chief figure in the band, although unable to play with his comrades of happier days when all were enthusiastic over the idea of playing for President Harding, was Wilbur Morgan, 14 years old, whose back was broken when the deck crashed.

Since then he has been in Christ Hospital, his body incased in a plaster cast, and it is only lately that he has been able to use his legs.

But he was right on the job yesterday, and wherever the band went Wilbur went. Part of the time he was in an automobile and part of the time he was in a wheel chair, but the only thing that seemed to matter to him was that he was there.

In his coat was a flower. He guarded it closely and admitted it was from a bouquet sent him by Mrs. Warren G. Harding. And in the pocket of his uniform was the cherished letter Mrs.

NO INTEREST DISPLAYED IN SATURDAY'S PRIMARY

Political Leaders Predict That There Will Not Be a 50% Vote Cast in the Mason County Primary Election.

There has not been an election in Mason county in a quarter century that so little interest has been displayed as in the Congressional Primary to be held throughout Kentucky on next Saturday.

In this district there are four aspirants for the Democratic nomination and three aspirants for the Republican nomination. None of the Republicans have made a fight in this county. Three of the Democratic nominees have visited Mason county but none have been able to stir up any interest.

It is predicted by political leaders who know that there will not be half of the voters of the county go to the polls.

MCCORD, MAYSLEICK HURLER SIGNS WITH THE CARDINALS.

Pitcher McCord of Mayslick well known to local fans for his desire to hang defeats on the Maysville team it seldom being realized spent the morning in consultation with Manager Bosken and signed a Cardinal contract. In his three appearances against the Cards this season, once with Mayslick and twice with Paris he has met defeat. However, with a good team behind him, he should have no trouble making good with the Cards.

S. S. TEACHERS PICNIC.

Teachers of the Primary department of the First Baptist Sunday school together with members of their families enjoyed a picnic at Beechwood park Monday afternoon.

ABERDEEN SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNICS AT PARK.

The Sunday school of the Aberdeen Methodist church is enjoying its annual picnic at Beechwood Park Tuesday.

Harding had written him on her return to Washington after learning how seriously he had been hurt.

He showed the letter to his friends yesterday, but he insisted first that they wash their hands before touching it. Another bouquet was given to Wilbur by members of the band.

RAIL CHIEFS MEET AT NEW YORK AND COMPROMISE SEEN

Great Meeting Held in New York Today May Mean the Settling of the Present Rail Strike Immediately.

New York, August 1. — Proclaiming "no surrender" on the seniority issue of the rail strike, but believed about to effect a compromise which will end the shopmen's walkout within 48 hours heads of 148 railroads gathered today at the Grand Central Terminal.

Despite unanimous insistence by carrier spokesmen that a majority of the presidents meeting today to consider President Harding's peace plan is opposed to restoring seniority rights to strikers, it is believed the executive's proposals, kept secret before the conference, hold the key to a "way out."

Three hopeful omens were apparent:

The few presidents who would talk insisted they had no idea what President Harding's plan was, and that it might very well prove acceptable. They indicated their apparently "stand pat" attitude easily could be changed by fair proposals from the White House.

While insisting statements that they would make peace were "inspired" and "without foundation," officially designated spokesmen for the carrier executives refused to deny they expected to effect a settlement.

Dispute over the difficult seniority issue always has taken the form of executives insisting they will not restore complete seniority rights. It is believed this leaves the door open for a compromise so that sufficient rights may be granted striking shopmen to satisfy their leaders.

KILGUS TAKES ACTIVE MANAGEMENT OF STORE.

Mr. Chris Kilgus, who for a number of years has been the popular manager of the Peoples' Drug Store, severed his connections with that store Tuesday and took active charge of the store he recently purchased from M. F. Williams at the corner of Third and Market streets in the Masonic Temple. Mr. Kilgus is not only an expert druggist but a most clever gentleman and we predict for him a prosperous business at this popular corner store.

OUR POLICY:

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

THOU ARE THE MAN!

Discussions of the newest batch of the statistics of crime which, sadly enough, show the United States to be a barbaric land, may seem profitless and even burdensome by reason of their monotonous repetition. But it is to be remembered that murder, too, is profitless, burdensome and wearisome. Sociologists have instituted a curious, even ghastly, competition among the sections and the cities because of this enduring factor of evil.

From this it is learned that St. Louis is bloodily foremost in the disgraceful train of communities where murder and homicide reign, and that, if the present ratio of law-breaking is continued, Los Angeles will rank first for burglaries and robberies by force, always potential for killings. As for comparison with other English-speaking countries, there is no such thing. "America first: the rest nowhere," the slogan of the famous cup-winning yacht, fits the situation precisely.

Argument, now again rife because of the savagery of the bandits and of the desperate strikers, leads always to the same conclusion, namely, the lack of respect for law. This is a threadbare truism and forms an indictment against a whole people, the thing Burke erroneously said could not be done. Society here will not enforce law, and hence society here is degenerating. The corollary is perfectly fitting. Public officers, lax indeed, do but reflect public opinion. It is a cowardly evasion to throw the brunt of responsibility upon them.

The stage at this moment is set for more crime, more murder, more arson, more destruction. Rifles are cracking, bombs are bursting and men are dying and suffering. The roll of slaughter for 1922 will vastly exceed that of 1921. There is no blinking that grim fact. America will maintain her leadership in the van of the army of appalling deeds. It is a waste of breath to talk of the remedy, which every honest-thinking man knows already. What is needed is a penitential revival of the sense of personal, not public, responsibility.

As for the moral teachers, there recently was published a query which seems to give them their compass points and orders. It came from a religious paper, and it asked: "Is there not in the teaching of the Christian Church too little emphasis upon the exacting demands of righteousness and rather too much stress upon a sentimental interpretation of the love of God?" The answer is emphatically the affirmative. Obedience to law is in itself a form of religion. Again, those who falsely think that coddling crime is reformation are bidden to remember that a fundamental of the social organization commands us to be just before we are generous. — Cincinnati Enquirer.

MR. HUGHES ANSWERS MR. HOLT.

The Leader not long ago commented on the letter written by Mr. Hamilton Holt to Secretary Hughes, making certain charges and asking for definite information as to what Mr. Hughes proposed to do about joining the League of Nations.

Secretary Hughes has seen fit to answer Mr. Holt in detail, and points out the errors into which the latter has fallen in this instance as in so many other instances.

For example, the Secretary says that this government has dealt courteously and appropriately with all communications from the league; that the United States has had representation at all health conferences; that the government had not prevented the American Hague judges from sending nomination for the Permanent Court of International Justice of the League; and that the United States had in no sense abandoned the Allies in making a so-called separate peace with Germany.

Mr. Hughes also contradicts the statement made by Mr. Holt that the Washington conference accomplished only what could have been sooner and better accomplished by the League, had the United States joined it at the right juncture, in the following terms: "My own view is that the important results of the conference were made possible because it was a limited conference held in Washington by the nations immediately concerned and was not associated with any other enterprise."

Mr. Hughes, furthermore, very frankly states that there is no intention on the part of this government to enter into any treaty or convention by which the United States shall share in the maintenance of the Permanent Court of International Relations until provision is made by which the United States, without membership in the League, shall have an appropriate voice in the election of the court's judges.

Mr. Holt goes on the assumption that the United States can maintain its moral prestige and perform its international duties only by accepting membership in the League. He has allowed this obsession to warp his judgment of men and events to such an extent that he permits himself to think of the President and Mr. Hughes as recreant to a solemn obligation and guilty of all the disorder and distress in the world.

It has always been a phenomenon hard to explain that those who have given such undivided and passionate allegiance to the League idea have become incapable, largely, of calm and logical processes of thought and of just and generous judgments. — Lexington Leader.

UNCLE JOHN'S AGE

Uncle John Shell, Kentucky Mountaineer, must have been more than 100 years old, but there has been considerable doubt, and ground for doubt, as to his age having been 134 or anything like it.

It nearly always is the case that men or women believed to be considerably above 100 are men or women whose birth record does not exist and whose age is arrived at by neighborhood speculation.

A man believed to have been 127 years old died in Indiana some time ago, but there was no proof of his age. Old men in the community knew that he rated as middle aged when they were boys or that he seemed an old man when they were youths, but there was no means of ascertaining how old he was.

An Indian—known among his Indian friends as "Wrinkled Meat"—died in the Northwest last winter, believe to have been about 120. But it is observable that when the actual age of the oldest inhabitant is known it rarely is above 100. — Frankfort State Journal.

CHAUTAUQUA FOR 8 DAYS TO HAVE CHARGE OF BEECHWOOD

Chautauqua Tickets Only Will Admit Public to Beechwood Park During Chautauqua Week.

Mr. R. N. Stickley, Secretary of the American Legion Chautauqua, announces that arrangements have been made with the management of Beechwood Park whereby the Legion will be in charge of the park gate during all of Chautauqua week. No tickets will be honored at the park during this week but Chautauqua tickets. The management of the park will continue to operate the bathing beach and the concessions but the dancing will be in charge of the Chautauqua committee.

Mr. Stickley also announced that but one sort of season ticket was being sold and that as soon as the guarantee of disposal of the supply they now have on hand at $2 each, the price will be advanced to $2.50.

The managers of the Washington and Gem theaters announce that their theaters will be closed during Chautauqua week.

NOTES FROM RUGGLES

Ruggles Campgrounds, July 29th. — The first thing that happened today was an extra fine sunrise prayer service under the leadership of Rev. A. F. Felts. This was followed at 10:30 a. m. by another great sermon by Dr. Jolly. Ruggles campers are learning to love Dr. Jolly more and more in these later years. His preaching such as to bring much comfort to the Christian. His knowledge and insight into great Biblical truth and his ability to express them in a way that all can understand makes his preaching so acceptable to campmeeting audiences.

SUNBURN

Eased by Vicks, or Prevented Entirely

If your skin is so tender that you expect sunburn, rub it well with Vicks before exposure.

After sunburn, apply Vicks gently—do not rub in. It soothes the tortured skin and often prevents blistering.

For any outdoor vacation, Vicks is "standard equipment." It eases attacks of hay fever, asthma, catarrh and summer colds.

It's fine, too, for sore muscles, tired feet, poison oak, or ivy, and for bites and stings.

Rev. Ashley led the 3 o'clock service which was short and snappy—yet very interesting and helpful.

Dr. Fort gave the evening sermon, an unusually impressive discourse from the text "I Know Where You Dwell." The gist of the sermon was that God would take care of His own under any and all circumstances. He backed up his sermons with several of the most telling illustrations we have heard in a long time. The service left a strong impress upon the large audience.

THANKFUL FOR A LITTLE CHILD

Mrs. Mertz Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Kutztown, Pa. — "I wish every woman who wants children would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has done so much for me. My baby is almost a year old now and is the picture of health. She walked at eleven months and is trying to use her little tongue. She can say some words real nice. I am sending you her picture. I shall be thankful as long as I live that I found such a wonderful medicine for my troubles." — Mrs. CHARLES A. MERTZ, Kutztown, Pa.

Many cases of childlessness are curable. Perhaps yours may be. Why be discouraged until you have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a faithful trial?

Spoken and written recommendations from thousands of women who have found health and happiness from its use have come to us. We only tell you what they say and what they believe.

We believe that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so well adapted to the conditions which might cause your trouble that good will come to you by its use.

Merit is the foundation of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has behind it a record of nearly fifty years.

that ever was held on Manhattan Island took place in the center of the theatrical district the other day. The casket, which was three inches long, held the body of a canary bird. It was carefully interred in a flower box on the roof of the apartment house at 153 West Forty-fourth street, but is soon to rest in ground bought specially for the purpose under a wild cherry tree near Yonkers. Miss Anna Bird Stewart, who writes books for children, was the owner of the canary, which had been with her for thirteen years. His name was Moses Fleming Wilson.

The city is agog over the new novel by Edith Wharton, "The Glimpses of the Moon." You will remember what a thrill was aroused by her previous novel, "The Age of Innocence," by its picture of New York society back in the 1870's. "The Age of Innocence" won the Pulitzer prize from Columbia University. Now she has told a brilliant story of the Four Hundred in the present epoch. Most of the setting is laid abroad, but that gives an opportunity for showing its characters where they are most frankly themselves — when they run over to their villas in Italy, their shooting moors in Scotland, or the hotels of Paris. The story deals with two young people, of high social standing but little cash, whose married life approaches the rocks after they agree to a divorce at the first sign of "something better" for either—and such possibilities appear in an opulent English Earl and an American heiress. It is one of the situations that no one can make more dramatic than Edith Wharton, "The best of living American novelists" as the New York Times calls her in its review of "Glimpses of the Moon." The best of it is that the love for each other of these two children of Fifth Avenue finally stands up against the temptations of the most extravagant society in the world. The book has caused more than a buzz of interest on that same Fifth Avenue.

There is a store proprietor up in the north end of this city who surpasses most of us in the trust he placed in humankind, and he does find this trust justified. an honest-intentioned man. Louis Levy, of 190 Glenmore avenue, for instance, had a difficult experience just because of those things. He was taken to the police headquarters charged with having stolen a gold watch and three dollars in cash from a man on a subway train. "They simply stuck to my fingers," he protested, "I'd been waiting around at the park and eating orange and lemon ices while I waited. You know how sticky they are. Then, too, I'm magnetiv—thing just come to me. The watch and money did that—just stuck to my hands, and the man got away before I could tell him. If I hadn't been arrested, I intended to get on the train and go from car to car until I found him." But police are acknowledgedly unsympathetic with anything outside of routine.

Are we losing our identifying American look as the result of increased foreign entanglements? One of our realists Americans — a young chap I know who thinks and works in terms of one hundred per cent. Americanism, just happened to go into the world war about three years ahead of his fellow Americans, by joining up with the Canadians — had an experience the other day, which is worrying both of us. He was accosted by a stranger as he was leaving the subway and asked if he were an Englishman. Now he doesn't look like one, but he has developed a certain interest and sympathy for the little island. It turned out that the stranger had done service in the English army, and that they did have a number of mutual friends overseas. But how did the stranger know it, and can a quietly sympathy show up in a man's exterior?

WEAK KIDNEYS MAKE WEAK KBOODIES

Kidney Diseases Cause Many Aches and Pains of Maysville People.

As one weak link weakens a chain, so may weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking-down.

Overwork, strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and generally when their activity is lessened, the whole body suffers.

Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills frequently come, and there is an ever-increasing tendency towards dropsy, gravel or fatal Bright's disease. When the kidneys fail there is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help.

Doan's kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys.

No need to take the statement of someone living far away as evidence.

A. Sorries, gun and locksmith, Aberdeen, Ohio, says: "My experience with Doan's Kidney Pills leads me to recommend them strongly. My kidneys acted irregularly and the secretions contained sediment. I had backaches and when I stooped it was difficult to straighten again. Colds always settled on my back and kidneys. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they put a stop to the trouble."

OVER FOUR YEARS LATER, Mr. Sorries said: "I am the same strong believer in Doan's Kidney Pills. I have had no trouble with my kidneys since recommending Doan's."

FIRST INSTITUTE FOR EPWORTH LEAGUE IN STATE IS OPENED

Ruggles Epworth League Institute
Which Opened Monday Is the First
To Be Held in the State Of Kentucky.

(By J. H. RICHARDSON.)

Ruggles Campgrounds, July 31. — The first Epworth League Institute held in Kentucky is on in earnest. And if today's beginning is any token of what is in store these old campgrounds are going to witness the finest week in its history. The Institute crowd is here — literally droves of them. You should have seen Stanley Barber's truck when she hove in sight this afternoon. Full inside and out, and hanging on wherever a strangle hold could be had. When he unloaded then it was Manager Peter's and Billy Son's time to get busy. There was sure some scurrying around to find accommodations for all. But at this hour—near bed-time—all are comfortably housed and ready for a good night's sleep preparatory to the first day of real study and institute work—tomorrow. A preparatory hour of worship and devotion was spent at 8:30 this morning led by Dean Fort after which active work in the registration of students began. The faculty with others were made up in teams which went about the campus rounding up the folks to register. At the close of the evening service high on to one hundred had been registered—a remarkable showing for a new institute. And Dean Fort says it will reach 150 before tomorrow night. This will be a record of which Kentucky Methodism may very properly boast.

At 6:30 this evening following the sound of the trumpet blowing his bugle call practically the whole campus crowd assembled over back of the tabernacle for the first camp fire and recreational hour. It was a time of getting acquainted. Under the leadership of Stewart Patterson, stunt leader, and Song Leader Ashley, an hour was spent by young and old in one of the best times of their lives. Following this the crowd wended their way back to the tabernacle where Union College Night was properly observed. Rev. E. R. Overley, president of the Kentucky Conference Board of Education, made the opening address in which he told us just what a really great educational institution Kentucky Methodism had in Union College. The success of the recent endowment campaign was mentioned with the enthusiastic suggestion that it would make of Union college one of the best in Methodism. Rev. Overley was followed by President Franklin of the college who dwelt chiefly on what the college was doing in giving such training — mental, physical and religious — that students were so established in their faith that modern training some of the high institutions could not faze. Ruggles folks will have a more exalted opinion of Union college than they have ever had before.

Here are the names of some of the arrivals for the day. The rush has been so great that were unable to get the names of all: Rev. O. W. Robinson and family, of Russell; Rev. Robert Burch Foster and family of Dayton, Ohio; Rev. E. J. Reese and family, of Paintsville, Ky.; Rev. and Mrs. E. R. Overley, of Newport; Rev. A. P. Smith, of Batavia, Ohio; Rev. Lyon, of Shinkle M. E. church, Covington; Rev. E. N. Earley, of Advance; Rev. J. H. Butler, of First church, Ashland; Rev. Isaac Cline, daughter and friend of Second church, Ashland; Rev. J. H. Dowdy, of Russell; Misses Meada Blankenship, Miss Marjorie Stratton, Orville Dameron and Rufus May, of Pikeville, Misses Esta Walker, Herma Lee Wheeler and Betsey Rule and John Price, C. D. Price and Leslie Combs of Paintsville, Paul Shimp of Bellevue, Alma Davis and Vera Vansant of Covington.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McNutt and son, Clay, and daughter, Alice Wood, arrived today and will camp with Mrs. McNutt's parents, Major and Mrs. John Walsh.

Mrs. W. A. Woods and son, Allen W., visited the camp for a time this afternoon.

Mrs. Frank Hunsicker arrived this afternoon and will be a guest at the cottage of Mrs. J. C. Simons.

Miss Grace Bierbower came out today, called hither by the illness of her sister Miss Fannie Bierbower. Miss Frieda Nauman will return to Maysville in the morning after a few days of enjoyable camp life.

Credit Old Ruggles Campmeeting once more again already. The drouth seems to be broken. This section was visited by one of the hardest thunderstorms and down-pours of rain this evening about 9 o'clock that has ever happened during campmeeting. As usual under such circumstances the GREAT PRIMARY FIGHT ON IN MISSOURI TODAY.

One of the most sensational primary fights in the history of America will close at the polls Tuesday. Senator James A. Reed is opposed by Breckinridge Long for the Democratic nomination for Senator. Senator Reed opposed the League of Nations and ex-President Wilson has personally appealed to the voters of the state in behalf of Mr. Long. The women of Missouri are said to oppose Senator Reed because of his opposition to Woman Suffrage in the Senate but he has a wonderful personal following and the race will be close, politicians predict.

grounds were covered with water. How thankful we all are! President John Brodt is wearing a broad smile. He had been puzzling his brain for some method to lay the dust on the entrance roads. The Good Lord has done more in a half hour than all the sprinkling carts in the state could do in a week. And now the clouds are past and the moon is shining and the katy dids are singing in the woods and tomorrow is going to be a glad, good day.

SCORE A NEW SUCCESS FOR SHIRLEY MASON.

A very positive success was scored by Shirley Mason in the Fox picture, "The Ragged Heiress" which is shown Tuesday at the Pastime Theater — a picture embodying a story as dainty as the star herself. It is a story of sweet girlhood made the victim of circumstances originating in a father's conviction of crime and progressing toward drudgery as a maid of all work—though rightfully the possessor of independent means. All is righted eventually, of course, and to the accompaniment of a very delightful romance of the heart; but meanwhile there is much of pathos and not a little of humor in the development of the story.

The star role is one in which Miss Mason revels, and belongs in the category in which she has achieved her most pronounced success under the Fox banner. To a personality of great charm this actress unites a talent that never fails to win for her new admirers with each succeeding photoplay. Her support includes John Harrison as leading man, Edwin Stevens, Cecil Van Auler, Claire MacDowell and Aggie Herring.
